

BITCOIN DAILY

The Cycle Phase Playbook

How Bitcoin really moves: three phases, on repeat.
And how to position in each one.

● BUST

● RECOVERY

● BOOM

THE BIG IDEA

Bitcoin moves in 3 phases. Then it does it again.

Bitcoin does not go up in a straight line, and it does not fall forever. Since 2018 it has moved through the same three phases, in the same order, in every cycle. The price level changes. The pattern does not. When you know which phase you are in, you stop reacting to noise and start positioning with the trend.

01 BUST

The bear market. Prices fall, fear takes over, and most people give up and leave.

02 RECOVERY

The quiet bottom. Boring, slow, and the phase where patient money builds positions.

03 BOOM

The bull run. Fast gains, loud hype, and the part everyone shows up for, usually too late.

The order never changes: Bust, then Recovery, then Boom. Then it starts over. Your only real job is to know which one you are standing in.

01

PHASE 1

Bust

The bear market

WHAT IT IS

Price trends down for months. Every bounce fails. The news is bad and seems to keep getting worse.

HOW IT FEELS

Painful and hopeless. People who swore they were long term end up selling at the worst possible time.

WHAT THE TREND AWARE DO

Protect capital and keep some cash ready. Build a buy list now. You do not need to catch the exact bottom. You need to be ready when the next phase begins.

THE MISTAKE TO AVOID

Panic selling near the lows, then swearing off Bitcoin completely, right before Recovery quietly begins.

02

PHASE 2

Recovery

The quiet bottom

WHAT IT IS

The fall stops. Price stops making new lows and starts to base. Long, boring, sideways action.

HOW IT FEELS

Like nobody cares. The hype is gone and the crowd has moved on. This is the least exciting phase, which is exactly why it works.

WHAT THE TREND AWARE DO

Accumulate patiently while it is cheap and quiet. This is the unglamorous phase that funds the entire next run.

THE MISTAKE TO AVOID

Waiting for it to feel safe. By the time it feels safe, you are already in the Boom and paying far higher prices.

03

PHASE 3

Boom

The bull run

WHAT IT IS

Price breaks out and trends up hard. New highs, fast moves, and green candles almost everywhere you look.

HOW IT FEELS

Euphoric. Everyone is a genius, the group chats are on fire, and strangers start giving you coin tips.

WHAT THE TREND AWARE DO

Ride the trend, but have an exit plan written before you need it. Take profit into strength on the way up, not in a panic after the top.

THE MISTAKE TO AVOID

Going all in at the top because it finally feels obvious, then riding it all the way back down into the next Bust.

WHERE WE ARE NOW

Don't fight the phase you're in

● Now: BUST

● Next: RECOVERY

● After: BOOM

So the job right now is not to panic. It is to get your buy list ready for the Recovery phase that has followed every single Bust before it. The crowd will tell you it is different this time. The phases say otherwise.

Signs a phase is turning

Watch for these. Do not try to predict the exact day.

BUST TURNING TO RECOVERY

Selling slows down, price stops making fresh new lows, and bad news stops pushing the price lower.

RECOVERY TURNING TO BOOM

Price reclaims its long term trend, momentum returns, and attention slowly comes back to the market.

BOOM TURNING TO BUST

Everyone is euphoric, price stretches far above trend, and fresh hype is the only thing holding it up.

We do this every single day.
